(a) whether it is a fact that Trade Unions have objected to Government's proposal to allow firms with 300 or less employees to lay off, retrench and close, without Government's permission;

(b) if so, the details thereof;

(c) the reasons/justifications for such a proposal; and

(d) the percentage of such industries in relation to all industrial units, benefits envisaged for industrial growth, labour reforms, employment generation etc.?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF LABOUR AND EMPLOYMENT (SHRI CHANDRA SEKHAR SAHU): (a) to (c) Yes, Sir. The 2nd National Commission on Labour had given certain recommendations on lay-off, retrenchment and closure. It had recommended that prior permission was not necessary in respect of lay-off and retrenchment in an establishment of any employment size. However, in the case of establishments employing 300 or more workers, if the lay off continued for more than 30 days, post facto permission of the appropriate Government would be required. The Commission further recommended that the provision of Chapter V-B of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947
